SUBJECT: Participation of NASA officials as Consultants on Advisory Panels of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA)

At the request of the CIA, NASA has agreed to make available a number of NASA officials to assist the CIA by serving in an advisory capacity on eight panels dealing with aerospace science and technology. Enclosure A is a copy of the agreed guidelines covering this activity.

After consultation with the Program Directors, I have designated the NASA officials listed in the attachment to Enclosure A to serve on the various panels. The selection of designees reflects our belief in the need to make available as consultants high level NASA officials who have a broad and intimate technical knowledge of the state of the art and of NASA activities in the various categories identified by the panel titles. The addressees are requested to notify the designees attached to their respective activities of this assignment, and to insure that each designee is fully informed as to the governing guidelines.

NASA Center Directors may expect to be called upon to host panel meetings from time to time.
